New Website on Ranunculus

Jennifer Zurko

Onings Holland has launched a new website—www.italianranunculus.com—to promote American and locally grown Italian Ranunculus, anemone and Icelandic Poppies. Onings Holland is the exclusive representative in the U.S. and Canada for Biancheri Creations' cut flower varieties. Until recently, the Cloni Ranunculus sold in stores were only grown and imported in from Italy. But now, a handful of U.S. growers are growing them year-round. GT
