In Memoriam: Rami Soufi

Jennifer Zurko

Bayer announced the tragic passing of Rami Soufi, who the company called “a dear father, friend, colleague and scientist in the crop science industry.” At the time of his passing, he was the Head of Development for Environmental Science at Bayer, but he lived a life full of accomplishments, not least of which was his tenure with Bayer.

Bayer will be founding a scholarship fund as a tribute to Rami’s legacy and in the spirit of Better Life. Anyone wishing to join Bayer in remembering Rami are asked to visit www.gofundme.com/rami-soufi-memorial-scholarship-fun. GT
