Hunting Cool Plants with Mike Rimland

Chris Beytes

If you've had enough crop culture for now and want to do a little traveling of the world to seek out cool new plants, then you'll enjoy this video featuring Mike Rimland, "Plant Hunter" for Costa Farms. Mike has almost half a century in the foliage industry and he talks about what he looks for when hunting for new foliage plants, and what it takes to get them into the Costa pipeline for production and sale. Watch it on Costa Farms' YouTube channel. GT
