Jeb Fields

One of the best opportunities for students studying nursery production in the South is The Sydney B. Meadows Scholarship Fund. This fund was created by the now disbanded Southern Nursery Association in 1989 and has awarded hundreds of scholarships to worthy students over the past 34 years. Many industry leaders have received this award supporting students in undergraduate and graduate programs. This year, 12 highly deserving students received the prestigious award, and as an industry, we're lucky to have each and every one of them.

The scholarship is dedicated to the late Sidney B. Meadows, a past president of the Southern Nursery Association, who believed that providing financial aid for students was an important way to ensure the growth and development of all facets of the industry.

With this year's awards, the fund has awarded a total of $626,000 since the fund was established in 1989. The fund's current assets are now more than $950,000.
