Star Roses and Plants' 2020 Open House Goes Virtual

Jennifer Zurko

The Star Roses and Plants' annual Open House is going virtual this year. The virtual open house will include video presentations from experts on many unique woody, rose and perennial introductions, as well as Bushel and Berry, and Bloomables additions, the new Petite Knock Out Rose and much more. Viewers will also get an inside look at Star Roses and Plants' West Grove, Pennsylvania, property.

"Our open house has always been a way to show our latest products and brands, and what we have lined up for the future," says Bradd Yoder, President of Star Roses and Plants. "While our everyday lives have changed, what hasn't changed is our commitment to bringing the best genetics in roses, shrubs, trees, perennials and edibles."
